

TQUK Level 4 Award: TPhYL

[Certificate in Teaching Phonics to Young Learners (Level 4)]

- ◆ 'TPhYL' is a Synthetic Phonics teaching proficiency qualification for teachers who are currently teaching or intend to teach phonics to young learners. The TPhYL, created by Phonics Education Association (PEA), is endorsed by Teaching Qualification UK (TQUK) as a Level 4 on the Regulated Qualifications Framework (RQF). The TPhYL is the first of its kind, giving much-needed accreditation and certification to the teaching of phonics to young learners.
- ◆ The purpose of the TPhYL is to check the ability of the candidates to provide quality synthetic phonics teaching to young learners. Teachers teaching phonics to young learners need to produce sounds, blend sounds into words and segment words to encode letters accurately. They also need to have the teaching skills to teach their target age group appropriately. Candidates of TPhYL will be tested in various areas related to phonics knowledge, application and teaching.
- ◆ The entire TPhYL test with all five sections will normally be completed in one day with adequate breaks provided between each section. PEA and the University of Macau reserve the right to change and adapt schedules and venues as necessary.
- ◆ For details, please visit official website: <https://www.peaphonics.com/tphyl-test>
